Limitless possibilities

Through EnVision™, glass can now be seen as the new architectural canvas – the platform on which ultimate visual impact can be created and inspiration communicated. There are no constraints to the design process, no limits to aesthetic potential and no need to compromise creativity in order to meet legislative requirements.

One of the key characteristics of EnVision™ is the role it plays in not only providing unlimited design potential, but also the flexibility it provides to the design process.

Printed on any standard glass thickness between 4mm and 19mm and capable of being manufactured in large individual panel sizes of up to 6m x 3.3m, any image or design can also be easily scaled up across multiple panels to create a visually stunning graphic across a complete building facade or bespoke interior walls.
