“

I'm dedicated to delivering outstanding results for our network of customers.

Mark Collins is the Sales and Product Development Manager for SOLOS Glass. A well-known and recognised figure within the glass industry, Mark has in excess of 30 years experience in an array of high profile Sales Management and Technical positions in both Victoria and New South Wales.

With his extensive experience and knowledge, he is always eager to contribute to both company and industry participation, making him a prominent and valued member of the SOLOS Glass team in conjunction with the numerous industry and technical committees he is associated with.

An active member of AGWA – Australian Glass and Window Association, IGMA - Insulating Glass Manufacturers Affiliation, Vinyl Council Australia, uPVC Windows Alliance and Glazing Standards Committee BD7 all of which support improvements and changes to glass and glazing regulations, compliance, developments and the technical information available to support the Australian glass industry.

Outside of work, Mark has recently joined the masses moving to regional Victoria to escape the 'big smoke' of Melbourne. Mark and his wife have also joined the campervan community, taking every opportunity to explore the beautiful countryside with their three beloved dogs.
